A patient died. The patch already existed.

WIRED · SEP 19, 2020 · DAN GOODIN

Düsseldorf University Hospital · ransomware via a known, un-patched VPN vulnerability

The device told the doctor the patient was fine.

The patient was not.

460

US hospital cyberattacks last year, up from 249 in 2023

FBI IC3 · 2025 ANNUAL REPORT

~53%

of connected medical devices carry a known critical vulnerability.

CLAROTY · MEDIGATE · 2024 FLEET SURVEYS

PreVent

is the tool that writes the fix

FIND SemGrep + Bandit + Claude triage

PROVE open model writes the PoC payload · device obeys

FIX Factory Droid writes the git diff · human approves · verifier replays the bytes

LIVE · DASHBOARD

Same exploit. Re-run after the patch.

BEFORE

200

device obeyed · alarm silent · patient crashing

→

AFTER

401

device refused · alarm armed · patient breathing

Hard-asserted status code · no LLM in the loop · 10x re-run in <90s on stage

A receipt the FDA already asks for.

FDA §524B · AUDITABLE RECEIPT

Model VENT-SIM / Lab unit #0001

Finding	CWE-306 · CVE-2019-6538
Scanner	SemGrep 1.182.1 · Bandit 1.9.4
Patch author	Factory Droid · scoped CLI
Approved by	human@ops · identity-signed
Verify	same exploit → 401 after fix
SBOM	attached · 73 packages

✓ Sealed and queued to clinical engineering

Make the devices watch themselves.

Find the hole. Prove the kill. Close it. Show the receipt.

BUILT BY

Israel Ogwu
agents

Christian Ibarbia Ruiz security

Saketh Poori
hardware

Sanjavan Ghodasara
realtime

CAL HACKS 13.0 · OCT 2026 · github.com/Sanjavan7/calhacks